

SecurityCrisisSimulation

Visitors to the Alma Research & Education Center have the opportunity to experience Israeli security challenges through a Security Crisis Simulation.

Participants take on the roles of Israeli Cabinet members in the situation room and interact in real-time to a simulated security crisis featuring top secret intelligence reports and breaking news. They feel the pressure of making critical decisions that impact Israel's national security. Sample Northern Border Crisis Simulation Itinerary:

■ Field Briefing: 45 minutes.

The experience begins at a lookout on the Lebanese border, with a security briefing provided by the one of Alma's geo-political speakers. The briefing is about current events and the situation on the border today.

■ Drive to Alma Center in Tefen.

■ Israeli Cabinet Meeting: 75 minutes.

Israel is under constant threat of attack from its northern borders. Members of the Israeli cabinet face tough decisions every day. Participants must determine how best to protect their civilians and maintain an effective deterrence while trying to avoid starting a wide scale conflict.
